Breve Biografia Elisabetta Dejana

Elisabetta Dejana si e' laureata in Scienze Biologiche alla Universita'di Bologna. Dal '78-80 ha lavorato alla Mc Master University, Hamilton, Ontario. Dopo questo periodo e' rientrata in Italia per dirigere il laboratorio di Biologia Vascolare all'Istituto di Ricerche Farmacologiche Mario Negri. Ha passato periodi di lavoro ad Harvard Medical School, Brigham and Women' Hospital, Boston; Hopital Bicetre di Parigi; Hadassah Medical School in Jerusalem and Weitzman Institute in Rehovot, Israel.

Dal '93 al '96 ha lavorato in Francia a Grenoble, dirigendo una Unita' INSERM ed un laboratorio CEA al Centro di Energia Nucleare di Grenoble (CENG). Dopo questo periodo e' ritornata in Italia ed ha partecipato alla creazione di un nuovo Istituto di ricerca supportato dalla Fondazione Italiana per la Ricerca sul Cancro ( Istituto FIRC di Oncologia Molecolare, IFOM). In IFOM al momento dirige un laboratorio di ricerca dedicato allo sviluppo di nuove terapie per inibire la vascolarizzazione tumorale. Elisabetta Dejana e' professore Ordinario di Patologia Generale alla Universita' di Milano, Facolta' di Scienze Matematiche Fisiche e Naturali. E' membro dell'Editorial Board di diversi giornali scientifici e Comitati internazionali per la valutazione della ricerca scientifica. Infine e' stata nominata Ufficiale dello Stato Italiano dal Presidente A. Ciampi. Ha pubblicato piu' di 370 lavori scientifici in riviste internazionali ed ha un indice di citazione personale ( i.e. quante volte i suoi lavori sono stati citati) di oltre 53,000 citazioni
